Dear Parents / Guardians,

“Believe you can and you're halfway there.” Theodore Roosevelt

As the month of May approaches, the positivity and prosperity in the air is contagious for all and sundry. Similarly, in the academic year too, the month of May is the harbinger of new achievements and greater heights to aim for.

This is the time to invest in self-belief and rekindle the self-study pattern. The aura and the prevalence of positive ambience in one's surroundings propels a learner to understand the importance of hardwork and supplement the same with ardent dedication and dutiful effort.

This is the time to cope with one's limiting beliefs, develop a positive mindset and overcome obstacles in the path of self-study in order to aim higher.

Harking back to the words of William A. Ward, a motivational writer, study must educe and reanimate the ever triumphant spirit of each learner:

“Recipe for success: Study while others are sleeping; work while others are loafing; prepare while others are playing; and dream while others are wishing.”

Remember that today's learning is surely going to plant the seeds for tomorrow's success. Before cracking May Pen and Paper series, I wish these Cs viz Confidence, Consistency, Courage and Care, to accompany you for the ever so sweet success!
