CIRCULAR NO: 12/2025-26

Dated: 14.08.2025

Dear Parents / Guardians & Students,

As we enter the midterm season, it is vital to approach this academic milestone with sincerity, structured effort, and a clear mind. Consider the simple yet profound tale of a farmer who planted two identical seeds. One he nurtured daily, the other he ignored. In time, only one flourished. The lesson is clear—growth is not merely about potential, but about the care, discipline, and intention invested each day. Let this be a reminder to us that success is cultivated through steady focus, and not haste.

These examinations are an opportunity to reflect progress, not pressure. We encourage all students to align their preparation with thoughtful planning, integrity, and confidence. A detailed date sheet and subject-wise schedule is outlined below for your reference. Kindly review it together and support a balanced routine that encourages both diligence and wellbeing. Let's promote a positive mind-set and reinforce the importance of our triangular stakeholder diagram wherein all three of us – Students, Parents and Teachers work in coherence for an effective and reflective growth.

When Teachers would offer unwavering support and insightful guidance, When Parents - like steadfast guardians would nurture the lamp of learning, and When Children would weave integrity in their studies and discipline in their efforts - Examinations would cease to be trials—and would become triumphs. For in life's symphony, righteous effort plays the purest note."

Dear Students,

Let's remember that midterms are not just tests of memory—they're milestones that measure how well you've nurtured your academic growth. Therefore, you should aim to give your best, and work with purpose and persistence.
